

GERMAN WARSHIPS OFF BELGIAN COAST—4,000 GERMANS ANNIHILATED—Allies Gain on Every Front—Belgians Do Great Work—Germans Shell Canadian Ambulance

City of Gallipoli Reported Captured By Allies 254 OFFICERS TO LEAVE HERE

War News Takes Second Place In Britain For the Time. Despatches Favor Allied Arms on Both Fronts.

(By Times Special Cable.) London, April 30.—The east coast of England again has been subjected to an aerial attack, accompanied by the usual infliction of material damage, but without casualties of any sort. Like former raids, this one of last night is marked by differences of opinion as to the type of air machine used by the Germans, but most people agree that a Zeppelin carried the raiders, who arrived in the small hours of the morning, and spent a brief time over Ipswich and Bury St. Edmunds.

Another item of news of striking interest was the presence, reported officially from Paris, of a German fleet off the coast of Belgium, and the shelling of Dunkirk, with the loss of twenty lives. Further news of this marine activity on the part of Germany is awaited anxiously in England.

0,000 GERMAN SOLDIERS VIRTUALLY WIPED OUT

(By Times Special Cable.) Paris, April 30.—The virtual annihilation of 4,000 German soldiers in the Verdun battle, which was reported by the Verdun correspondent, is described by the newspaper as the greatest victory since the beginning of the war.

APPEAL TO POPE TO REPROVE BARBARIANS

(By Times Special Cable.) Rome, April 30.—Belgian and French cardinals, archbishops and bishops have united in an appeal to the pope for the Vatican to condemn the attitude of neutrality it has maintained since the beginning of the war. They say they cannot understand how the head of a church which founded principles of right will remain neutral at the same time against those who violate written or unwritten laws.

CITY OF GALLIOLI CAPTURED BY ALLIES

(By Times Special Cable.) Athens, April 30, 4:25 p.m.—A despatch from Athens to the Herald says that the city of Gallipoli, on the European side of the Dardanelles, has been captured by the Allies.

RIGHT HON. H. M. ASQUITH, Has Been in Continuous Service as Premier of Britain Longer Than Any Other Since the Passing of the Reform Bill in 1832.

HEAVY TAX ON WAR PROFITS

(By Times Special Cable.) London, April 30.—The central feature of the budget, the Chronicle's Parliamentary correspondent believes, will be a scheme for the taxation of war profits. It is of the opinion that the Government intends to appropriate two-thirds of surplus profits made by all firms engaged directly or indirectly in the production of goods used in war operations.

PIRATE TOLL IS LESSENER

(By Times Special Cable.) London, April 30.—German submarines sank eight British vessels off the North Sea in February, sixteen in March, but only six in April, according to the Daily Mail naval correspondent, who says: "The sinking of the British Admiral's ship, the battleship, was a great blow to the German fleet. The British Admiral's ship was a great blow to the German fleet. The British Admiral's ship was a great blow to the German fleet."

GERMAN SHIPS SHELL DUNKIRK

(By Times Special Cable.) Paris, April 30, via London.—German warships have been seen off the Belgian coast, according to an official statement given out in Paris today. Large shells to the number of nineteen have fallen on Dunkirk.

TRAWLER IS SUB. VICTIM

(By Times Special Cable.) London, April 30, 2:11 p.m.—The trawler Lily Dale has been sunk by a German submarine in the North Sea, 75 miles off the mouth of the River Tyne. A patrol boat picked up the crew of the trawler three days in the case of the submarine. The submarine, however, was not seen.

NEW HAMILTON NAMES ON CASUALTY LISTS

To the list of Hamilton men, some of whom have laid down their lives for King and country, while others, on the battlefield, sustained serious injury, were added several more names today. The names of the fallen are: Pte. E. Clarke and Pte. James O'Neill, Dundas, Hamilton, who were killed in action at the battle of the Somme. The names of the wounded are: Pte. J. H. Brown, who was wounded in the leg at the battle of the Somme.

Men's Hat Bargains.

Men's Hat Bargains. Lots of Hamilton's best-dressed men are learning that it pays them to go to Lyons Tailoring Co., at 114-116 Dundas street north, for their hats. The assortment there are so large, the prices are so low, and the quality is so good, that the Lyons hat department is making many new friends every season. In a business as large as this, there has to be constant care to keep the stock well cleared up. This week they are making a special "clean-out" offer of many of that righteousness and should rule the world, thereby said that they were utterly opposed to war.

Miss Alice Carpenter, of New York, declared that this was the first time in history that those who are most from the horrors of war dared to protest, and that the existence of the woman suffrage organizations which enabled them to do so.

"Give us back our men," was the theme of the address of Frau K. of Austria. She said that millions of weak women, acting together, could make a mighty force, which without failure, "appeal to the conscience of the world and demand to stay the blood-letting."

One of the many things that I can't understand is why 75 percent of the rest of the town's population is making great headway in Crime in the Streets. The other 25 percent covered Place Pete; "nearly everybody in the photo signed the pledge. You see, we had a man named Pete who was a little bit of a flake, got a little bit of a flake got so nervous he shot at three men on a missed every time. He was a little bit of a flake."

THE LADY AND THE GOBBY

With a Violin Recital the Effects of Which Were Magical.

An Englishwoman residing in India

one evening found to her horror that a huge cobra had coiled itself about her veranda rail, near which she sat playing the violin. She was too near the snake to run with safety, so she continued playing while she gradually edged away. At first her only idea was to keep the creature thus engaged while she escaped, but when she had gained a safer distance and position, fascinated by the awed light of the strange temptations, she hesitated. She played air after air of different character.

The effect was magical. That snake behaved like an ardent, hot-blooded disciple of Paganini. Every vibration in the music, whether of volume or tone, produced instantly a corresponding change in the attitude of the cobra. If she played a lively dance it swayed its body sideways in quick time and yet in graceful curves. Once she struck a number of false notes in rapid succession on purpose. The cobra without and without in pain, as if suddenly struck with a whip. Thus the creature behaved like a mad musician till the lady, getting tired of the sport, gratefully moved herself farther and farther and then made a sudden bolt into her room and slammed the door, leaving the cobra to wander disconsolately to its lair in the fields.—London Chronicle.

TO HONOR DEAD

Memorial Service at Ottawa for Fallen Heroes.

At Ottawa, April 29—About 1,500 soldiers and sailors gathered for a memorial service to honor the fallen heroes of the war. The service was held at the National War Memorial, and was attended by many dignitaries and members of the armed forces. The service was a solemn and moving occasion, and the fallen heroes were remembered with great respect and honor.

Chats With the Doctor

BY A PHYSICIAN
THERIOLOGIST AND VETERINARIAN.

These two cubs figure very prominently in the social life of the times, and it is difficult to say anything about either—anything that is of a positive and decided character—with-out offending violent and often insuperable prejudices. Without dwelling heavily upon excothol's corn.

The following remarks have to be written by a doctor who belongs to neither of the sides, and who has besides an honest and honest heart of regarding everything as he may possibly come from an outside brand and dispassionate, irrespective of personal bias and class-prejudices.

Just now, too, the total abstinence question has especially come to the fore, and it is not only a political and social question, but a religious one. It is a question of the health of the nation, and it is a question of the health of the individual. It is a question of the health of the nation, and it is a question of the health of the individual.

ALCOHOL AS A POOD.

Face those who are unable to discuss the question from a calm, common sense point of view, and whose sole purpose is to make a political capital out of the religious belief, or rather, there can be no doubt, the alcoholic drink, taken of course judiciously and discreetly, are of considerable service to many people, and to him (for use and not abuse) by nature for his own good. It is a question of the health of the nation, and it is a question of the health of the individual.

WISDOM TO USE ALCOHOL.

The general run, as it shapes itself to me—just this point is so contradictory and I would not say it to every single individual without many exceptions—that children do not need alcoholic drink at all, except temporarily as a medicine; that adults, in the prime of life, are always better without it—except again in a temporary measure, that in old age, when a moderate active period of life is past, a moderate recourse to alcohol is absolutely necessary and beneficial.

CHILDREN AND ALCOHOL.

Children when healthy and vigorous certainly do not require alcoholic beverages, which are best avoided for them, in fear of the possible formation of an evil habit. But when you find a child growing too fast, or when its health fails for any reason, or when the blood is not as healthy as it should be, that children in winter months—when you often find small regular doses of beer or wine, given daily as a medicine for a few weeks, of the greatest possible service.

BEERS AND WINES.

Beer, stout, porter, whose contain alcoholoid ingredients, salts, vegetable acids, etc., which render them nutritive rather than great than that of spirit. The wine of France, Italian and Italy contain only a small percentage of alcohol, and hardly ever contain any artificial coloring. Good—as in our port wine, the wine of Oporto. They are of much direct value.

135 SURVIVORS

Were All That Were Saved From the Leon Gambetta.

Paris, April 29—An official statement issued by the Ministry of Marine to-night says: "One hundred and thirty-five of the French armored cruiser Leon Gambetta which was sunk by the Austrian submarine U-55 have been taken to the hospital. The bodies of Admiral Bessie and his wife have been recovered. The circumstances of the loss of the cruiser have not yet been confirmed, but it is believed that the ship was sunk by a mine. FASHION LIKES STRIPES

MISS BETTY BROWN WEARS 'EM UP AND DOWN

HOW COULD IT HAPPEN?

Bobbs—The moths have eaten everything in this closet.
Willie—I don't see how they could get in. I kept the door locked all summer long.

A MISTAKE

Pa—What did you mean by telling your me I kissed the maid?
Willie—I meant "the cock."

OVERHEARD BETWEEN CARS

Tom, I used to be a fast-class aeronaut until I was taken sick while on my balloon.
The, what was de sickness?
Aw, I was taken wid a high fever.

ONLY GOOD OVER

Fin—sorry, kids, but these shirt-sleeved single wormy characters in the box.

SO KIND

I'm afraid, Bridget, that we will not be able to live together any longer.
Indeed, mum, an' where is it you do be goin'.

A Case In Point

"BESS" said the man who had been scanning a newspaper as he enjoyed his cigar—"I see that at the present time there are no less than six Counts and Lords here with us in search of American brides."
"Yes," briefly replied the one addressed.
"They want rich ones, of course."
"Yes."
"It's not to be a real matter of business."
"Yes."
"What's your idea about it?"
"I'm on my way to Reno, sir, and don't care to talk."
"Be Reno, not to get a—"
"Ten, sir, to get a divorce from one of those American girls who ought to have married a Lord or a Count but made a victim of my interest!"
"Dear me! Dear me!" mused the man with the paper after a moment's thought. "Maybe we are all wrong and the Lords and Counts don't get so rich after all!"

ALWAYS OUT OF SIGHT

These "land-a-hand" chaps may be all right, but there's another kind And that's the "land-a-dollar" chap—Where! But he's hard to find.

He Caught On

"Well what happened half an hour ago?" was asked.
"Why, just before the rain began there was about twenty men working on a building back there. One of 'em called the other a liar. Then he was called a liar. Then the boss came along and he was called a liar."
"And then what?"
"Then it was like a game of football. Everybody got out into the street. Everybody kicked and punched everybody else. Everybody jumped on everybody's back. Everybody ran a little ways, and everybody ran after 'em. Then the other side ran and they were run after. Sir, it was fine."

DIDN'T SEE THEM

Etiket—Tom, I don't see any crickets!
Tom—Of course not yet, my dear; the game is young. What did you expect?
Etiket—Well, where are the quarterbacks and halfbacks who were to play?

Hard To Understand Woman

"If you can't please a woman," he said, disgustedly; "it's no use trying."
"What's happened now?"
"I met that pretty Miss Sweet in dark hallway and kissed her. I didn't think she'd mind, you know."
"And she did mind?"
"Well, she pretended to be very angry, so I thought I'd smooth things down by telling her that it was all a mistake; that I thought she was somebody else."
"And then?"
"Why, then she really was very angry."

CASE OF DISAPPOINTMENT

"Did you ever know a girl to die for love?"
"Yes."
"Did she just fade away and die because some man deserted her?"
"Why she just took it willingly and worked herself to death because the man she loved married her."

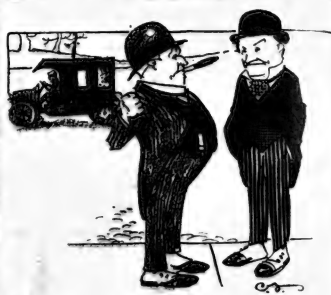

THAT WILD SHAGGY APPEARANCE

"Do you writers rumple up your hair to accelerate thought?"
"No. We do it to scare off collectors."

AT THE FOOTBALL GAME

Biggs—Please take that woman!
Wiggs—Why, old man, she is the most beautiful girl in the city.
Biggs—That may be. But she obstructs my view of the play.

BY LOCK

Bobbs—See that old fellow riding the white and blue?
Dobbs—Must be a millionaire, eh?
Bobbs—Millionaire! Why he owns a whole ton of coal!

IN ANCIENT TIMES

Justin—Thrilling news! The enemy has scaled the walls and captured three of your court jesters. Shall we die?
King—Why, recover my wife. Ha, ha!

SO KIND

Shirley, dear, I want some more like this white.
All right, dear. I'll get you a set of six more.

CADGET

Oh, yes you, you naughty boy! I thought it was burglars in the parlor.
So did I, and I was looking for them.

The local league club will again battle for points to-morrow, in the Section there is a double-header again, and the first of the season. The Guardians are due to meet the Y. M. C. A. this evening, and this should prove a hot and interesting ball. The Guardians, after a bad start in their game with the Rangers, have regained of Anderson. Their defence is not enough. I have not yet had the pleasure of seeing the Rangers in action, but knowing the class of men they possess, I shall be greatly surprised if they fail to gain the points. Of course, anything may happen, but it should be a fight and a close one. The Guardians are in charge. The Rangers played their opponents to a goal, after having much of the game as the champions two weeks ago. They again put up a good fight last week against the Guardians. The Rangers will rely on the same team again, and they are confident of giving the champions a hard run.

TO-MORROW'S TEAMS.
The following teams are expected to represent the Rangers in the game at the stadium: Gough, Leachman, Kivry, Phillips, Smith, Giles, Ridge, Chambers, Northwell, J. Stirling, and Brown. Most of at the incision of the Rangers.
